OUR APPROACH

First Nations has always been exclusively committed to Native control of tribal assets and to restore control and promote culturally-compatible stewardship of those assets.

ASSET-BUILDING DEFINED

A positive and collaborative approach, asset-building focuses on cultivating traditional knowledge and practices, and creating new ones to build Native capacities, capabilities and communities.

WHY ASSET-BUILDING WORKS

Native nations are uniquely knowledgeable about their own communities. They know the strengths, challenges and needs of their communities better than outside agencies. It strengthens the effectiveness of Native nations to create solutions to their own challenges and allows them to best leverage their resources on their own terms. In brief, in the long term it works because it helps protect and enhance tribal sovereignty.

ASSETS IN NATIVE COMMUNITIES

- Natural Resources
- Social Capital
- Human Capital
- Political Assets
- Physical Assets
- Languages
- Cultural & Artistic Heritage
ABOUT
FIRST NATIONS DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE

STRENGTHENING American Indian COMMUNITIES & ECONOMIES for 39 years

Our Mission...

to strengthen American Indian economies to support healthy Native communities. We invest in and create innovative institutions and models that strengthen asset control and support economic development for American Indian people and their communities.
Our Strategies
How Change Happens

Our strategies are designed to support the entire ecosystem of transformative change in Native communities and build a network of grantee partners that ultimately leads to asset-building in Native communities.
OUR IMPACT

As of FY 2018

- 39 Years of grantmaking
- 1,710 Grants Awarded
- 4,765 People educated through convenings, webinars, and conferences in 2018 alone
- 94,920 Publications downloaded from our online knowledge center in 2018 alone
- $33.29 MILLION Dollars invested through grantmaking
First Nations’ Native Agriculture and Food Systems Initiative (NAFSI) Framework

- Health: Increasing access to locally produced healthy foods will reduce diet-related diseases and improve the health of Native peoples.
- Economic Development: The development and cultivation of food markets and businesses fosters the entrepreneurial spirit of Native peoples that leads to economic development.
- Culture: Traditional agriculture practices revitalize ceremonies of planting seasons, build the social bonds of the production process and strengthen the relationship of Native peoples to the land that sustains us.
- Nationhood: Native communities control and build strong Native institutions and governance capacity.

First Nations will award up to eight grants of approximately $32,000 to organizations in Native communities with the goal of promoting policy activity and development. The grants will support work contributing to building a national movement that will fulfill a vision of Native communities and food systems that are self-directed, well-resourced, and supported by community policies and systems. This opportunity is targeting emerging projects focused on developing Tribal Food Sovereignty.
2019 Gather Food Sovereignty Grant Information:

- Grant Award Ceiling: $32,000
- Grant Term: begins on April 1, 2020 – March 31, 2021
- Application Deadline: February 27, 2020
- Award or Declination Information: Expected March 25, 2020

Grant Priorities

Priority will be given to projects that demonstrate:

• That they can help strengthen Native American, Alaska Native, or Native Hawaiian communities

• Proper alignment with funding priorities

• Ability and/or experience necessary to successfully accomplish the proposed project

• Strong leadership reflecting the community served

• Feasibility, cost-effectiveness, and sustainability of proposed projects or programs

• Strategic plans for collaborating and forming partnerships.
Allowable Activities

• Selected grantees under this opportunity must use funding to advance Native American nutritional and health-related policies; policymaking approaches; community power; and change at the tribal, local, state, and national levels. Emerging projects are encouraged to apply.

Examples of allowable activities under this funding opportunity include, but are not limited to:

• Conducting a community food assessment to examine the economic impact of food system assets and plan next steps
• Projects aimed at increasing local food system control, including increasing access to fresh, healthy foods.
• Increasing local food distribution and marketing to end-use institutions and larger markets
• Strategic community planning around food sovereignty projects
• Increasing the capacity of food producers to manage environmental, community, and social/political impacts of policy on their food system
Unallowable Activities

Examples of unallowable activities under this funding opportunity include:

• Lobbying
• Entertainment
• Capital Construction
• Funding of individuals
• Development campaigns
• Endowments
• Scholarship or tuition assistance
Grant Requirements

• Post-Award Grantee Orientation Webinar
• Reporting & Evaluation – Progress and Final Report including evaluation data
PROPOSAL REQUIREMENTS

- A brief history of your organization or tribal program
- A description of the project and who it will serve
- At least three specific and measurable objectives to be accomplished during the project year
- A summary of project activities and how they will be implemented
- An estimated budget for the proposed project
OBJECTIVES

S
Specific: What, exactly, in detail, do you want to achieve?

M
Measurable: How will you know when you’ve reached your goal? Quantify it!

A
Achievable: What resources are needed – do you have them (including time)?

R
Realistic and Relevant – What’s the outcome – the change – you’re expecting?

T
Timed – Break it into steps. When will each step be completed?
OBJECTIVES

Keep it simple: By (when), (who & how many), will do (what)

Example 1: By July 31, 2019, 30 youth will have participated in three workshops on farming and harvesting traditional rice for community consumption.

Tip: Your dates must be varied so progress and activities can be measured!
Whom does the project serve?

Why do the recipients need the funds?

What specific conditions would you like to change?

Include demographics and other identifying information.

Include both qualitative and quantitative data, statistics, and anecdotes that tell the story of your organization’s work and who you will serve.
