OUR APPROACH

First Nations has always been exclusively committed to Native control of tribal assets and to restore control and promote culturally-compatible stewardship of those assets.

ASSET-BUILDING DEFINED

A positive and collaborative approach, asset-building focuses on cultivating traditional knowledge and practices, and creating new ones to build Native capacities, capabilities and communities.

WHY ASSET-BUILDING WORKS

Native nations are uniquely knowledgeable about their own communities. They know the strengths, challenges and needs of their communities better than outside agencies. It strengthens the effectiveness of Native nations to create solutions to their own challenges and allows them to best leverage their resources on their own terms. In brief, in the long term it works because it helps protect and enhance tribal sovereignty.

First Nations’ Native Agriculture and Food Systems Initiative (NAFSI) Framework

Native Food Sovereignty
- Native communities create policies and programs aimed at Native food systems control and build strong Native institutions and governance capacity.
- Traditional agriculture practices revitalize ceremonies of planting seasons, build the social bonds of the production process and strengthen the relationship of Native peoples to the land that sustains us.
- Increasing access to locally produced healthy foods will reduce diet-related diseases and improve the health of Native peoples.
- The development and cultivation of food markets and businesses fosters the entrepreneurial spirit of Native peoples that leads to economic development.

- Native-controlled 501(c)(3) nonprofits
Grant Priorities

Priority will be given to projects demonstrating:

• Innovative change to existing policies or creation of new policies improving nutrition and health outcomes for Native people
• The ability and/or experience necessary to successfully promote and pass the proposed policy
• Strong leadership that reflects the community served
Allowable Activities

Selected grantees under this opportunity must use funding to advance Native American nutritional and health-related policies, policymaking approaches, community power, and change at the tribal, local, state and national levels. Projects should work to improve nutrition and health outcomes, including but not limited to leading community organizing, increasing Native access to healthy foods, nutrition and health outcomes. Youth-led projects are encouraged, as are projects that include engagement of youth advocates.

Examples of allowable activities under this funding opportunity include, but are not limited to:

- Policy advocacy
- Policy drafting
- Policy implementation
- Policy Research
- “Ground-softening” directly leading to policy work
- Policy meeting
Unallowable Activities

Examples of unallowable activities under this funding opportunity include:

• Lobbying
• Entertainment
• Construction
• Other non-advocacy expenses

Objectives

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SMART</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>S</td>
<td>Specific: What, exactly, in detail, do you want to achieve?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M</td>
<td>Measurable: How will you know when you’ve reached your goal? Quantify it!</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>Achievable: What resources are needed – do you have them (including time)?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
